

Ann Madonia Casey

“I am proud of how the board speaks openly in discussions and makes sure everyone is heard before taking a vote. People on this board are willing to listen to differing opinions and sometimes change their minds after thorough reflection upon a decision.”

—Ann Madonia Casey

Ann Madonia Casey was elected to the Lovejoy Board of Trustees in May 2004, after seven years of active volunteering in Lovejoy schools. She has held many offices in the Lovejoy Elementary PTA Board, most recently the Junior Great Books chair, and was a founding member of the Foundation for Lovejoy Schools.

Ann holds a bachelor’s degree in psychology from the University of Dallas, with certification to teach grades 6–12, and a master’s degree in family therapy from Texas Woman’s University. She taught English, remedial reading, and psychology at Irving High School for seven years, winning a Teacher of the Year award in 1987. Her experience in the classroom and her knowledge of curriculum and school policy have been extremely valuable to the Lovejoy Board of Trustees. Ann’s expertise in therapy is also valuable for leading difficult discussions and helping groups reach consensus.

Ann and David Casey married in 1983, and now live in Fairview. They have a son in high school at Allen and a daughter at Lovejoy Elementary.
